FRIDAY EVENING. APRIL 15. 1904.

The Explosion on the Missouri. Impressive ceremonies were conducted over the graves of the 26 seamen who were killed by the explosion on the battleship Missouri Wednesday at Pensacola vesterday afternoon at the National Cemetery at the Pensacola navy yard. The Missouri moved down the harbor to a point near the yard, and at noon the 26 bodies were brought ashore. At 2 o'clock the funeral procession moved to the cemetery, where hundreds of officers and sailors were present, and the remains were inter-red. The bodies of the five dead officers are being held, awaiting advices las to burial or shipment home. Expert turret officers on the vessels in port say the explosion was the result of a blow-back, known as the wind blowing the flames back from the muzzle of the gun and through the open breech, thus igniting the powder charge being hoisted. Captain Cowles and Lieutenant Hammer, the ordnance officer, had taken extra precautions against such an accident, and for three against such an accident, and for three days no firing with the large pieces was done on account of the wind being from off shore. On Wednesday morning the wind shifted and the officers deemed it safe to commence firing. Lieutenant Hammer had remained in the turret until the first string of shots had been fired in rapid succession. He thought it was safe to allow the continuation of rapid firing, and left the turret to consult with the target expert on board on this matter. Only three shots of the secondstring had Only three shots of the second string had been fired when the explosion occurred. So rapidly was the gun being fired that it is thought some of the fire remained in the barrel and that the powder being hoisted ignited. Officers of the vessel differ in their opinion as to the cause of the explosion, but it is probable that the exact cause will never be known, as there were no survivors among the turret crew. were no survivors among the turret crew.

To Pay for the Hugging.

Unless the State Supreme Court shall rule otherwise, the Southern Railway will be forced to pay $25,000 to Mrs. Sumie Franklin, of Newberry, S. C., who received that verdict for an alleged who received that verdict for an alleged outrage at the hands of men at present unknown. At a hearing at Greenville, which contined until 10 o'clock last night, Judge Klugh, in the Common Pleas Court, announced that he would not grant a new trial, nor would he reduce the verdict to a smaller amount. This is prehaps the most remarkable damage suft ever tried in South Carolina. Mrs. Franklin claims that some months Mrs. Franklin claims that some months ago, on a Southern train, bound for Greenville, two men hugged her and made improper proposals, causing men-tal and physical suffering. For the hugs and insult she wanted $50,000. The conductor interfered as soon as the woman complained to him.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coaled, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters: to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Robbed the Grave.

An Aggravating Cough Cured. A customer of ours who had been suf-fering from a severe cough for 6 months, bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy from us and was entirely cured by one and a half bottles of it. It gives perfect satisfaction with our trade.
